Bridging the gap between policy objectives & community outcomes

Governments from all levels, communities and Australians nationwide continue to invest in 'Closing The Gap' in Indigenous disadvantage. Momentum is at its peak, and hope for change – the highest it's ever been!

However, the complexity of solving centuries of hardship and contrasting experiences of policy practitioners and service deliverers can sometimes result in well-intentioned policies going awry – widening the gap.

Linking Indigenous Policy with Service Delivery 2010 focuses on effective policy design that transforms into meaningful service delivery for the benefit of communities.

By fleshing out challenges that arise during policy design, handover and implementation, this conference will assist in strengthening the conversion of policy into effective service delivery – fundamental to reducing Indigenous inequality and achieving national targets.

Offering a national forum for policy and service deliverers from all levels of Government, community organisations, Indigenous bodies and cross-cultural facilitators, you will take away:

- Tools to break through cultural and language barriers that limit meaningful consultation and participation by communities in programs and initiatives
- Strategies for meaningful collaboration, engagement and community participation in policy development and service delivery
- Holistic strategies for managing the entire policy to service delivery process, reducing silo approaches
- Bottom-up approaches to policy formulation and service delivery
- Case studies on 'Closing The Gap' in indigenous early childhood development, education and employment

Making intercultural facilitation a reality

Pre-Conference Workshop A
Monday 13th September, 2010

9:00am – 4:00pm

Intercultural facilitation is a process that occurs in the intercultural space between two different cultures.

This workshop builds on the concepts of the Strategic Action Framework (SAF), Mutual Ways and the framework of general facilitation to allow you to experience aspects of intercultural facilitation.

The workshop is highly interactive because it will:

- Draw on your experiences in projects or programs in which you have been involved with to achieve the understandings outlined in the workshop objectives
- Use scenarios in which you will have the opportunity to act as an intercultural facilitator and practice the skills learnt.

By attending this workshop, you will:

- Understand the principles/phases of facilitation
- Understand a model for and define intercultural facilitation
- Understand intercultural facilitation principles
- Understand principles of negotiation
- Develop principles of intercultural negotiation
- Have the opportunity to enact the principles of intercultural negotiation and facilitation.

About your workshop leaders:

Dave Goddard, Director of Collaborative Systemic Change Pty Ltd, has worked all over Australia and overseas. He has undertaken a vast amount of intercultural facilitation between public and private sector agencies, as well as Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities and agencies.

Nick Norris, Managing Director of Collaborative Systemic Change Pty Ltd, has held senior executive positions in the fields of education, defence and business. He has also conducted facilitator training in Australia and the United Kingdom.

Mossman Gorge – A Cape York Welfare Reform community

Post-Conference Site Tour B
Thursday 16th September, 2010

9:00am – 4:00pm

Mossman Gorge is a Cape York Welfare Reform Community (CYWR).

The Cape York Welfare Reform Project aims to increase community engagement in the real economy, and social development through four main focus areas: rebuilding of norms, reform of incentives, normalisation of housing and a retreat of Government from the (rightful) domain of individual responsibility.

The people of Mossman and Mossman Gorge invite you to attend site tours around a number of their essential service providers within the community. Experience first-hand one of the most well-known service delivery reform initiatives that is achieving real benefits for the community through meaningful consultation, collaboration and commitment.

By attending you will experience:

- Kuku Yalanji Dreamtime Tours and Gallery – enjoy an exotic nature walk with an Indigenous guide through Mossman Gorge Aboriginal Reserve, illustrating local Indigenous employment and training. Complimentary tea and damper will be provided
- Exposure to the Gateways Project which is assisting 15 long-term unemployed Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people in the Mossman area through job preparation, work experience and accredited training
- The Wellbeing Centre – established as part of Cape York Welfare Reform. This centre focuses on cultural and spiritual renewal in service delivery as a foundation for healing and community capacity building
- Mossman Gorge Community Primary Health Care Service, Apunipima Cape York Health Council – the first Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Organisation covering Cape York which uses an evidence-based model within a holistic approach to health issues
- The Family Responsibilities Commission – a key component of the Cape York Welfare Reform objective of restoring social norms in Indigenous communities.

You will be accompanied by:

Damian Britnell, CEO & Roy Gibson, Chairman
Bamanga Bubu Ngadimunku Inc.
Bamanga Bubu Ngadimunku Inc. (BBN Inc) is the incorporated association that manages the land, resources, business, employment and education needs of the Mossman Gorge Aboriginal Community.
